

A motion by Oklahoma to adopt the following as a substitute amendment for AM09002A02 relating to other taxes on communications services:

- A. A Member State shall not be required to comply with the provisions of this section in order to meet the requirements for Member State status under the Agreement. A Member State or a Non-member State may petition the Governing Board to have the Governing Board determine that it complies with the provisions of this Section.
- B. Except as specifically otherwise provided in subsection C of this section, the provisions of the Agreement and the Library of Definitions shall apply separately to each type of other tax on communications services in the same manner and to the same extent as such provisions and definitions apply to sales and use taxes.
1. Presence of some or all of the following factors are indications that separate taxes are not “one type of tax” for purposes of this section.
 - a. The taxes under consideration are imposed pursuant to separate statutes with distinct and separate authority.
 - b. The taxes under consideration are adopted or authorized by separate votes of the people.
 - c. The taxes under consideration are not applied to the same base.
 - d. The taxes under consideration are not imposed on the same products or services.
 - e. The taxes under consideration are not expended for the same purpose.
 2. Examples of taxes to be considered as separate types of taxes are:
 - a. The 911 emergency wireless telephone fee imposed on subscribers of wireless telephone service by some counties pursuant to the authority granted by Section 2843.1 of title 63 of the Oklahoma Statutes and the voters of the counties imposing such fee shall be considered to be the same type of tax as the 911 emergency service fee imposed by some units of local government on each VoIP service user pursuant to the authority granted by Section 2853 of Title 63 of the Oklahoma Statutes and the voters of the affected unit of local government.

These two fees shall be considered a separate type of tax from the emergency telephone fee imposed on every billed service user of wireline telephone service by some units of local government pursuant to the authority granted by Section 2814 of Title 63 of the Oklahoma statutes and the voters of the affected unit of local government.

The prepaid wireless 911 fee imposed on consumers of prepaid wireless telecommunications service imposed by the state pursuant to Section 2843.2 of title 63 of the Oklahoma Statutes shall be considered a separate type of tax from the other fees described by this subparagraph.

- C. The following are exceptions to the application of the Agreement and the Library of Definitions to each type of other tax on communications services.
1. When a provision of the Agreement or Library of Definitions, excluding Article III, is clearly not applicable to such taxes as determined by a three fourths vote of the Governing Board.
 2. In applying the requirements of Subsection (B) to other taxes on communications services, the following modifications shall apply:
 - a. The requirement in Section 301 for a member state to provide state level administration of sales and use taxes is modified to allow a designated agent to provide for the administration of each type of other tax on communications services.
 - b. The requirement of Section 318 for one uniform return for each state and all the local taxing jurisdictions within the member state for sales and use taxes is modified to provide that there shall be one State-specific uniform return for each type of other tax on communications services.
 - c. (placeholder relating to rate simplification.)
 - d. The requirement for tax base uniformity in Section 302 of the Agreement shall apply to each type of other tax on communications services within a state, but shall not be construed to require that the tax base for each type of other tax on communications services must be identical to the tax base for sales and use taxes imposed on communications services. In addition, if a state does not impose a particular type of tax on other communications services that is imposed by more than one local taxing jurisdiction in such state, Section 302 shall be construed to require that all local taxes have the same tax base.
 - e. The requirement of Sections 302 and 401 for a centralized registration system for sales and use taxes is modified to permit a centralized, one-stop registration system at the state-level for taxes administered solely within the state. Sellers shall also be allowed to register directly with localities.
 - f. The provisions of Section 806 of the Agreement relating to joint audits are clarified to provide that sellers may not request that audits on other taxes on communications services be conducted jointly by more than one state.
 - g. The requirements for states to provide compensation to sellers shall be modified as follows: _____.
- D. 1. For purposes of this section the term “other taxes on communications services” means any tax, charge or fee levied by a taxing jurisdiction as a fixed charge for each customer or measured by gross amounts charged to customers for communications services, regardless of whether such tax, charge or fee is imposed on the seller or customer or the service and regardless of the terminology used to describe the tax, charge, or fee. The term “other taxes on communications services” shall include any tax, charge or fee that is a payment obligation to a state enabled under subsection 254(f) of the communications Act of 1934.
2. Examples of other taxes on communications services include:

- a. 911 emergency fees where the fee is a fixed charge on each customer or is measured by the gross amounts charged on each customer;
 - b. universal service fees where the fee is a fixed charge for each customer or is measured by the gross amounts charged to a customer;
 - c. communications gross receipts tax and utility user tax where the charge is measured as a percentage of the gross amounts charged for service to a customer;
 - d. telecommunications assistance excise taxes used to fund access to telecommunications services where the tax is a fixed charge on each customer or is measured by gross amounts charged on each customer;
 - e. telecommunications relay services excise taxes used to fund telecommunications services for speech and hearing impaired persons where the tax is a fixed charge on each customer or is measured by gross amounts charged on each customer; and
 - f. state utility regulatory fees used to fund state regulation of telecommunications companies where the fee is measured by annual gross operating revenue earned from intrastate operations by a telecommunications company.
3. Examples of taxes not included within the definition of “other taxes on communications service include:
- a. telecommunications tax measured as a charge per mile of cable within the state.
 - b. . .

E. For purposes of this section, the term “other taxes on communications services” does not apply to:

- 1. any tax, charge or fee levied upon or measured by the net income, modified net income, capital stock, net worth, or property value of the seller of communications services.

Examples include:

- a. generally imposed state income taxes.
- b. Texas Margins tax .

- 2. any tax, charge or fee that is applied to an equitably apportioned amount that is not determined on a transactional basis.

Examples include

- a. The Ohio gross receipts tax.
- b. . .

- 3. any tax, charge or fee that is imposed on sellers of communications services that use the public rights of way which represents compensation for such use of the public rights of way or other public property, generally considered as franchise or right of way fee.

- a. Examples include the following when they represent compensation for the use of public rights of way or other public property.
 - i. The Texas municipal access line fee pursuant to Texas Local Govt. Code Ann. ch. 283 (Vernon 2005 and Supp. 2010) and the definition of access line as determined by the Public Utility Commission of Texas in its “Order Adopting amendments to Section 26.465 As Approved At The February 13, 2003 Public Hearing,” issued March 5, 2003 in Project No. 26412.”;

ii. An annual inspection fee and service charge levied by a municipality on every person operating a telephone business in the municipality for the expense incurred and services rendered incident to the exercise of the municipality’s police power, supervision, police regulation and police control of the construction of lines and equipment of the telephone business in the municipality when such fee is computed on gross annual revenue from the telephone business within the municipality.

b. Examples of taxes, fees, or charges that are not considered franchise or right-of-way fees include the following:

i. A fee labeled a right of way fee that is imposed on wireline and wireless providers of telecommunications services that includes as a measure of the tax revenue from wireless telecommunications.

4. any generally applicable business and occupations tax that is imposed by any taxing jurisdiction within a member state, is applied to gross receipts or gross proceeds, is the legal liability of the seller of communications services and that statutorily requires the seller of communications services to use the sourcing method required under the Agreement. The member state must provide and maintain a single statewide database containing applicable rates and jurisdictional boundaries for each such tax and a single taxability matrix for communication services. Except where prohibited by a member state’s constitution, a member state and any taxing jurisdiction within such member state shall relieve a seller of communications services from liability for such generally applicable business and occupations tax and any applicable interest to such jurisdiction for having failed to pay the correct amount of tax as a result of erroneous information in the database required to be maintained under this subsection. Unless clearly inapplicable to this subsection, the relief afforded to purchasers under Section 331 of the agreement with the respect to sales or use tax shall apply to sellers of communications services with respect to a “generally applicable business and occupations tax”.
